

President and Mrs. Wilson Take Sunday Afternoon Motoring Trip

Bulgarian Minister and Mme. Panaretto to Go on Vacation—Secretary Baker Will Give Dinner. Baron Moncheur Entertained by Misses Patten.

The President and Mrs. Wilson omitted their accustomed week-end trip down the Potomac on the Mayflower, Saturday, and instead, spent Sunday quietly at the White House. Late yesterday afternoon they went for a long motor trip in the vicinity of the Capital.

The Minister of Bulgaria, Mr. Stephan Panaretto, accompanied by Madame Panaretto, will leave Washington Wednesday for Williamsport, Mass., where they will spend the month of August. They will go to Manchester, Mass., for the month of September, and will then return to Washington.

Senator J. C. W. Beckham, of Kentucky, and Mrs. Beckham, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Louise Beckham, left Washington Saturday to spend some days at Virginia Beach. Mr. W. B. Kuttner, of Louisville, the brother-in-law of Senator Beckham, who has been their guest for some days, accompanied them.

The Secretary of War will entertain at dinner tomorrow night, when his guests will include a number of men connected with the aviation branch of the War Department.

The Secretary and Mrs. Baker will go to Nantuxet on Friday to visit Justice John H. Clarke, at his summer home. The Secretary will return to the Capital on Monday, but Mrs. Baker and the children will remain with Justice Clarke for a week.

The Japanese Ambassador, Mr. Rato, is visiting Mr. Takamine at his home in Sullivan Court, New York.

The Minister of Panama and Senor de Porras will leave the Capital this week for Atlantic City, where they will spend the month of August.

The First Secretary of the Swiss Legation and Madame Hubacher have as a guest at their home at Chevy Chase, Mrs. W. K. Schoepf, of Cincinnati, the mother of Madame Hubacher, who arrived Saturday.

The Secretary and Madame Hubacher have taken an apartment at 209 Sixteenth street for the winter season, and will take possession early in November.

The Postmaster General and Mrs. Bacon and Miss Lucy Bacon, returned to Mount Vernon, Maryland, yesterday, the country place they have taken for the summer. Miss Bacon was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Brooke Lee, accompanying them to the Station Blair wedding Saturday.

Baron Ludovic Moncheur, head of the Belgian mission, was entertained at dinner last night at the Patten, in Massachusetts avenue. A large party was asked to meet him, the party including the Minister of Belgium.

Yesterday the baron motored to Edgemoor for luncheon with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Billings Ruckdick, and tonight Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover will entertain in his honor. Saturday Baron Moncheur was the guest at luncheon of Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth.

Edgemoor, the estate of Mr. Joseph L. Edgemoor at Beaver Farm, has been opened for the season. Mrs. Dorothy Williams McComb, Mrs. Letitia's sister, being the first to arrive there. Miss Ballantine Pittney, U. S. A., and Mrs. Pittney, the brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Letitia, whose marriage took place last season, have joined Mrs. McComb, and later this week Col. and Mrs. John R. Williams, the parents of Mrs. Letitia, will go there.

The Secretary of the Treasury will return to Washington today, after spending the week-end at Buena Vista Springs, Pa. Mrs. McAdoo accompanied him there and will remain for a few days before rejoining him here.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Frederic R. Harris entertained a dinner company on the Potomac roof garden Saturday evening in compliment to Miss Dorothy Shaver and Mr. Christopher Smith, Secretary of the Legation of Norway, whose marriage will take place August 16.

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Julia Appleton Meyer, to Mr. Giuseppe Brambilla, Counselor of the Italian Embassy, is almost the fulfillment of a prophecy—the prophecy of every person in Washington and Boston society. Almost immediately upon Miss Meyer entering school here, she was addressed by her father, Mr. George von Langer Meyer, in President Roosevelt's Cabinet, she was placed in mourning by the death of her fiancé, a nobleman of Italy. All during her residence here she was a constant guest at the Italian Embassy, and it seems perfectly natural that speaking Italian as fluently as she does English, and knowing the literature and traditions of that country from long residence, part of it during the time Mr. Meyer was Ambassador at Rome, that she should ally herself with that country.

The marriage of Miss Meyer and Mr. Brambilla will take place in October, perhaps in Washington, but more likely at the beautiful Meyer estate at Hamilton, and after that, unless Mr. Brambilla should be promoted, and transferred—a thing not likely in war times—the Capital will claim another American woman in its Diplomatic corps. Miss Meyer spent some weeks in Washington earlier in the summer, and only recently returned to her home at Hamilton.

Mr. Brambilla, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer at Hamilton for some days, has a creditable diplomatic career, having served with the Italian Embassy at London and Petrograd, and in China as charge d'affaires, from which post he came to Washington.

Mrs. Ira Davenport is returning to Washington the first of this month on a visit to her brother, Mr. S. B. Sharpe, in Kingston, N. Y. She has stopped at Philadelphia en route home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lycurgus Lafayette Staton, of Tarboro, N. C., who came to Washington for the wedding on Saturday of their son, Lieut. Commander Adolphus Staton, U. S. A., to Miss Edith Blair, returned to their home yesterday accompanied by members of their party, including Miss Staton, the bridegroom's sister, and his cousin, Miss Mary Weddell, and Mr. Marshall C. Staton.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury Blair returned to their summer home at Newport yesterday, after attending the wedding of Lieut. Commander Staton and Mrs. Staton on Saturday. They were accompanied by Miss Minna Blair, who served as her sister's bridesmaid, and her cousin, Miss Edith Wallace.

Count Macchi, of the Italian Embassy, will return to Washington tomorrow or Wednesday after spending the week-end with Countess Macchi di Cellere and their family at Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., where they have a cottage for the season.

The Duke di Sangro, who recently came to America in the suite of Prince Ferdinand, of Udine, has been made honorary attaché of the Italian Embassy here. He was one of the principal figures in all entertainments for the prince, and his appointment here has created unusual interest.

Count Jean de la Greze has returned to Washington from a visit at Long Beach, Long Island.

Mrs. Charles O. Shepard has gone to Lenox as the guest of Mrs. J. Frederick Schenck.

Senator and Mrs. Robert L. Owen have announced the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Mr. John Cameron Hawkins, formerly of Boston, now chief of the bond division of the farmers' loan board at Washington.

Miss Owen, who made her debut two winters ago, is considered one of the handsomest young women in Washington society. She has traveled extensively and is as cultivated as she is charming.

Mr. Hawkins was graduated from Princeton in the class of 1912. The date has not been set for the wedding, but it will probably take place some time during the late autumn.

Senator and Mrs. John D. Spencer, of Danville, Va., announces the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Allen, to Ensign John H. Carson, U. S. N. Miss Spencer, having attended school at Guntown Hall, Ensign Carson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Carson, of Spartanburg, S. C. He is a graduate of the Naval Academy, class of 1916. The wedding will take place in October.

Representative and Mrs. William J. Borland and their little daughter, Jessie, have returned from a motor trip to Bedford Springs, where they were Water Gap. While away they visited the Carlisle Indian School, Hugh Ogilvie, son of Representative and Mrs. Borland, is spending the summer at the Frederick Park camp at Brevard, N. C.

The Lions Club held its second summer dance Friday evening, at Studio Hall, when John D. Spencer was chairman of the dance committee. Members present were Miss Josephine Knapp, Miss Helen Dine, Miss Eleanor Stewart, Miss Josephine March, Mrs. W. H. Edwards, Miss Clara Zerklin, Miss Jeffrey, Miss Caroline McKinley, Miss Mary Noble, Mrs. Smith, Miss Scudder, Mrs. Pearl Gray, Mrs. Marjorie Potbury, Miss Alva Robinson, and Mrs. Frederick Farrington. Mr. William Brooks Johns, Mr. Charles Wynne, Mr. Smead Alvord, Mr. John Wynne, Mr. Raymond Roche, Mr. Joseph Rafferty, Mr. Lloyd Foster, Mr. William Hollibaugh, Mr. Frank Ashbrook, Mr. Arthur Treat, Mr. William Lynn, Mr. George Stanton, Mr. Maurice Thompson, Captain Eugene Honey, and Mr. Frederick Farrington.

During the busy hours of the day, the stars are not favorable, but in the evening Uranus rules strongly with benefic power. Saturn, Neptune and the Sun are all faintly adverse in the morning.

It is a rule under which melancholy thrives and care should be taken to overcome mental depression. Nervous troubles and insanity may increase greatly before the end of the year.

Neptune seems to warn of danger on the sea, or rather, of a catastrophe. Farmers come under a way that may bring them bad luck today.

Saturn gives little encouragement to the old, who may suffer many ills, especially poverty in an unusual degree.

Even as, long before the war, the stars presaged thirt campaigns and agitation about simpler living, so now the planets appear to presage, in the midst of retrenchment in expenses, unusual conditions which encourage extravagance of dress and entertaining.

It is a most unlucky day for putting to the test any final hope in business, love or war, and whatever depends on official favor should be postponed.

Planetary aspects seem to show tremendous changes in certain city conditions, the clearing out of slums and general reforms, even at a time when least expected.

The later hours of this day are fortunate in love affairs. Again warning is given that even the old may become sentimental.

Uranus today encourages belief in occult things and even manifestations that appear to be supernatural. Some of these will take place where troops are encamped.

Scandals having to do with competition for favors or honors conferred by the government are strongly indicated.

Persons whose birthdate it will probably have many changes in the year. Journeys and removals are probable and the health should be safeguarded.

Children born on this day may have many ups and downs in life. These subjects of Leo are often inclined to be too daring in everything they undertake.

MARY FULLER IN NEW PHOTOPLAY ROMANCE

Former Washington Girl at Loew's Columbia This Week.

Washington should be particularly interested in the principal screen drama of the varied bill arranged for the first half of the week at Loew's Columbia, since its leading feminine role is portrayed by Mary Fuller, a native of the Capital, whose talent and beauty have helped to distinguish many interesting films that have been seen here from time to time.

In "The Long Trail," in which Miss Fuller divides the center of the picture with Lou Tellegen, she is cast as the niece and ward of a wealthy fur trader who takes his family to the trading post in the north woods on one of his numerous buying trips. His ward, Louise Graham, who is engaged against her own desire to an urban parasite, by reason of having been reared in a blizzard and compelled to spend the night away from the hotel finds it feasible to stay in the north country and marry Andre, the trapper, whose sister has just been sent to a convent in Montreal. Through the inexplicable operation of photoplay fatality, Michel, the little sister, falls victim to the dissolute blandishments of Louise's blackguard brother, who in turn succumbs to a highly efficient and inexorable police machine through the immediate agency of a mounted constable with unerring aim and considerable speed in the trigger finger. Thus it is worked out for Miss Fuller and Mr. Tellegen that the greatest thing in the world is love!

The film play of secondary importance is a comedy entitled "Mr. Parrot," Herod, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew lend this short exposition of the vicissitudes of a young married couple, seeking domestic tranquility, the charm of keen satire and genuine humor. The Paramount-Bray magazine reveals a series of unusually diverting activities conducted before the ever-ready lens and the news pictorial adds its quota of pictured events to an exceptionally well chosen set of reels.

PEACE MOVE MADE BY ANTI-MILITARISTS

In Letter to Senator Stone Ask that U. S. Define Position.

An effort to have Congress pass a resolution stating upon what terms the United States will make peace was made yesterday by the American Union Against Militarism. The executive committee appealed to Senator Stone, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, to introduce such a measure. Senator Stone would not indicate last night what action he would take in the matter.

The resolution suggested by the union states that Russia and Germany are the only nations which have signed upon what terms they are willing to talk peace, and that the resolution passed by the Reichstag clearly indicates that the German people are ready for a peace without annexation and should be heeded by this government. It also is urged that Congress call upon the parliament of England, France, Italy and our other allies to adopt resolutions "expressing their willingness to enter into peace negotiations with the Russian formula as a basis."

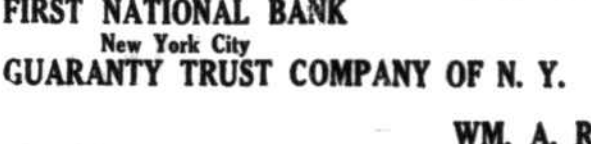

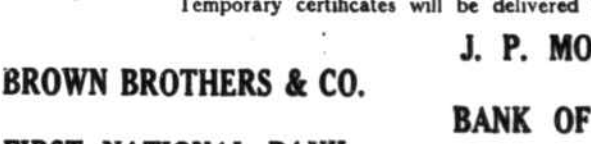

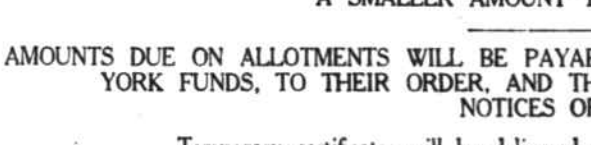

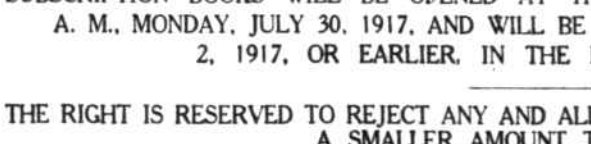

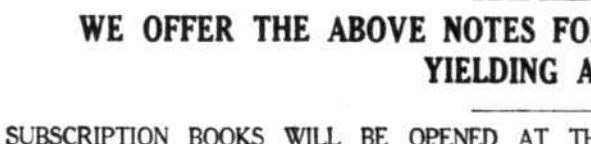

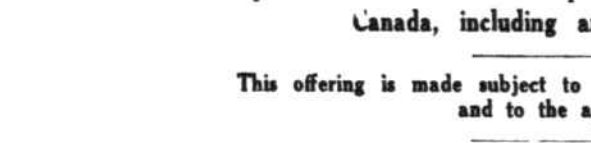

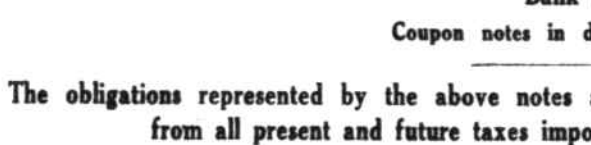

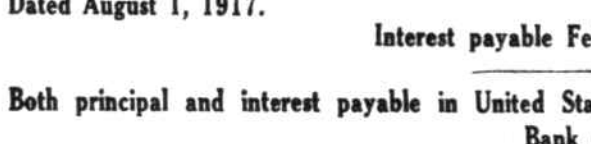

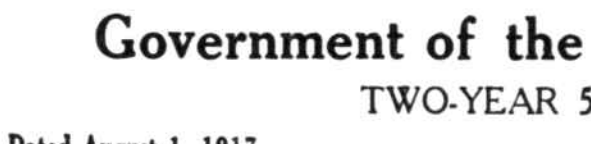

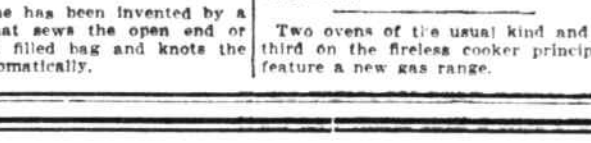

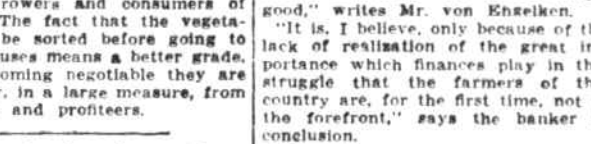

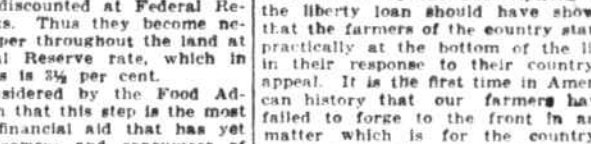

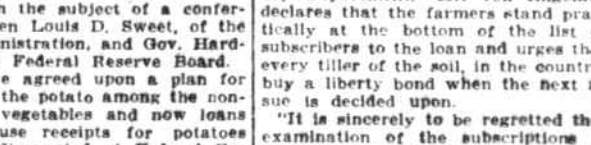

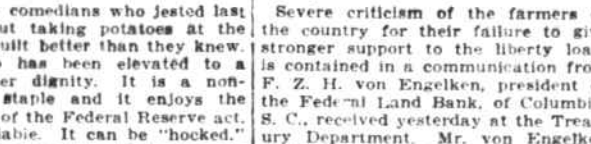

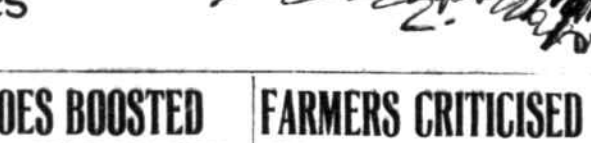

It is stated that the German people have spoken through the Reichstag disclaiming conquest and annexation, claiming only their national integrity and professing their desire to join in an international organization for a lasting world peace.

The letter is signed by Amos Pinchot, Lillian D. Wald, Max Eastman, L. Hollingsworth Wood, Rev. John Haynes Holmes, Norman Thomas, Roger D. Baldwin, Mrs. Sidney Charles T. Hallinan, Crystal Eastman and Dr. John Lovejoy Elliott.

Acute Indigestion Kills In Hurry Hospital Call

Stricken suddenly with a second attack of acute indigestion in the furniture store of Julius Lanburgh, 512 Ninth street, Arthur Jones, 49 years of age, died yesterday in the ambulance which was rushing him to the Emergency Hospital. Jones became ill early this morning and sent for a physician, who treated him for acute indigestion. Two hours after the doctor had left Jones was in the ambulance dead.

LOCAL WOMEN WORK FOR ENLISTED MEN

Provide Wholesome Amusement for Local Soldiers and Sailors.

Women in the District are responding royally to the call of army and navy authorities for clean, wholesome and healthful amusement for the hundreds of soldiers and sailors who are sojourning in the District, awaiting their call to the front.

Catholic women, members of the Federation of Mothers' Clubs, and the numerous branches of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, are working in unison toward the one goal—making sailors and soldiers in the District "feel at home."

Much good work of this sort is especially being done in the Soldiers and Sailors' Recreation Room at 1418 Pennsylvania avenue, where "great things" are on for the members of the army and navy organization both day and night.

Cards reciting the advantages of the recreation rooms are passed to the boys at their camps and recruiting stations and the rooms have become so popular that statistics show that since their opening, early in June, an average of 100 to 150 young men find their way to the Pennsylvania avenue rooms each day.

Each evening a special program of entertainment is provided for members of the local branches in addition to the permanent features of excellent reading facilities, parlor games, writing materials, and Graphophone music, and light refreshments.

Miss Jennie R. Cusick is in charge of the recreation rooms, which open at 10 o'clock in the morning and do not close until 11 o'clock at night. Emphasis is made by the women at the rooms that absolutely no charge is made to the soldiers and sailors, all expenses being paid by their organization.

NERVOUSNESS AND BLUES

Symptoms of More Serious Sickness.
